

Is Time Register

or Medicare

Medicare's "Open Season" is now in full swing, started on January 1st, and will last through March 31st.

This is a second chance for those who failed to enroll for Medicare at the time of their 65th birthday. Social Security District Manager N. Scott stated, "Those who fail to enroll within 90 days of their birthday month do not have another chance until the first three months each year."

Two strikes are against

Freezing Is

or Meals

Freezing a main dish may be a timesaver in meal preparation, says Extension specialist in Food Preservation, Miss Isabelle Downing.

But first, freeze a small quantity of a favorite recipe to see how your family likes

"Several foods need special consideration. Hard-cooked eggs whites are tough unless washed through a sieve. Cubed potatoes tend to rumble when frozen, so add a little oil. Wash, wash, wash and restuffed baked potatoes freeze nicely."

Cooked turkey sometimes becomes rancid after two months storage. Freeze dressing, cooked or uncooked, separate from the bird.

Miss Downing says that covering meat with a sauce or gravy prevents drying out.

Before freezing, the cooking process should be as short as possible. Ingredients in most dishes are cooked about three-fourths done, then frozen. Cool precooked food quickly to help retain the flavor, color and texture. Transfer the food to another container and put in ice and water to cool.

Food may be frozen in the casserole dish or pan in which it is to be reheated. Line the casserole with foil. Freeze in the coldest part of the freezer. When frozen the contents may be removed from the dish and over-wrapped with moisture-vapor-proof material. Label, date, seal and return to the freezer.

After removing the frozen dishes from the freezer, add Miss Downing, thaw in the refrigerator. Reheat only long enough to finish the cooking time.

Use most frozen main dishes within two to three months.

Metcalf Is Seeking Post Of Senator

Neil Metcalf, 46 year old Geneva attorney and two term veteran of the Alabama Senate, has qualified as a candidate in the Democratic primaries for State Senator for the 22nd Senatorial District composed of Bullock, Pike, Coffee and Geneva Counties.

Metcalf served 1954-58 and 1962-66 terms in the upper house. In his first term, he was runner-up for outstanding senator. He was Chairman of the legislative interim committee on Oil and Gas which wrote our present laws relating to exploration for oil and gas, nationally recognized as model laws. He was author of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Act. He served as chairman of the conference committee which wrote the present industrial development act. He was one of the original promoters of the peanut industry, helping to pass legislation which has increased this industry throughout the United States.

As Chairman of the Senate Education Committee in his last term, Metcalf sponsored the junior college and trade school programs as well as expansion of senior colleges. He served on the first Board of Trustees of the University of South Alabama. He was the Governor's representative on the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. He passed legislation which created the trade school at Draper Prison for first offenders. He authored the Farmers Market Authority Act and secured its passage.

Metcalf, a veteran of thirty months in the Southwest Pacific in World War II and fifteen months in the Korean Conflict, is a lieutenant colonel in the Alabama National Guard and a graduate of the Armor School and the Command and General Staff College.

Governor Albert Brewer will arrive in Elba this afternoon, March 19 and will speak on the South side of the courthouse square at 3 o'clock.

Governor Brewer's campaign for election to a full term bounced into high gear Monday with the official kick-off in his hometown of Decatur which was proclaimed "Albert Brewer Day" by residents of the Governor's home county. More than 50,000 persons were estimated to witness the parade festivities at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Following the parade, the Morgan County residents served barbecue to thousands of persons. More than 8,000 pounds of barbecue was ready at the beginning of serving. The highlight of the day was at 7 o'clock Monday night when a crowd of 25,000 attended the rally at Decatur High School, the Governor's alma mater. The auditorium seats 1,500 persons and a much bigger crowd stood partially outside. Brewer's speech was heard over loud speakers outside the building and following his talk in the auditorium he made his way to address the crowd outside the building. Portions of the rally was broadcast live and in color on a statewide television network.

Political observers began to tab it as the most aggressive campaign in Alabama history. Governor Brewer may be setting a new record, speaking in 24 counties during the first week of campaigning, beginning with his kick-off rally in Decatur on Monday night.

Brewer started his "stump" campaign in Port Deposit on Tuesday morning and plans to end the week with a rally and country music show in Dothan.

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC PLANNED AT BROCKTON

The pre-school clinic will be held at New Brockton High School on March 30, 1970 at 8:00 a.m. It is requested that all parents who has a child that will start to school next year should attend this feature program by the Beta Club.

The program will be staged at the Elba High Auditorium.

George C. Wallace will bring his gubernatorial campaign to Elba today, Thursday afternoon, March 19, when he speaks on the west side of the courthouse lawn, at 2 o'clock. He will be in Opp at 10 o'clock this morning. From Elba he will go to Enterprise to speak at 4 o'clock and on to Troy for a night speaking engagement at 7 o'clock. Friday he will go to Luverne, Ozark and end up at Dothan Friday night. He spoke in Florida and Andalusia in Covington County Wednesday.

The ex-governor will be accompanied by Grand Ole Opry stars and other top entertainers.

Wallace launched the most important race of his political career in Mobile Saturday night. He spoke to a crowd estimated as 9,000 by some and as 13,000 by the highest estimate. Manager of the Mobile City Auditorium where the rally was held estimated the crowd in excess of 11,000.

As usual, Wallace says his foes would put an end to the voice of Alabama in national affairs. "To do this," he said, "they have come together from within and without the state and grouped themselves around other candidates in this race for the sole purpose of destroying your importance in regional and national affairs."

Wallace based his statement about the schools on his contention that

The sale is open to everyone, not just members of the Cattlemen's Association, to both buy and/or sell cattle.

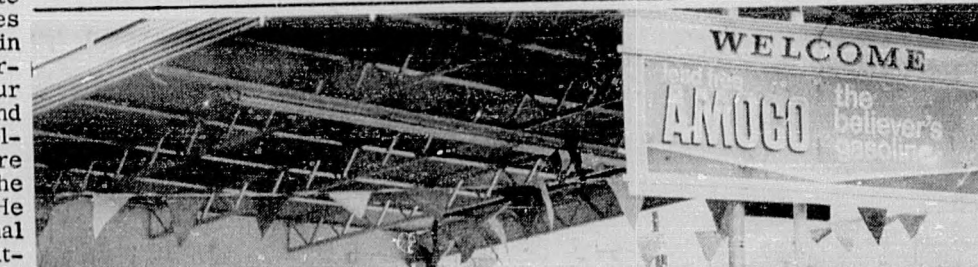

Drivers Slow Up for Safety

Motorists are cautioned to be extra alert when driving in twilight during the short winter days, because more traffic accidents occur during the early evening hours than at any other period of the day or night.

Motorists will do more driving during hours of darkness and night-time driving has proven to be more hazardous than daylight driving. The driver can see only as far as his headlights can reach, and he can see little to the left or right. A good driver will drive 10 miles per hour below the day time speed limit, without exception; be alert more than usual to other vehicles and pedestrians, and be especially watchful at intersections.

THREE SEABEES AND THEIR EXECUTIVE OFFICER, Lieutenant Commander Gene Davis, of Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 121 have several proud things in common as they serve together in Vietnam. Besides belonging to the same unit, they are all natives of Alabama. Their battalion established "State Flag Days" to honor daily a different state of the Union. Each day a state flag floats proudly beside the battalion's colors. It has become one way of making the hard working Seabees feel closer to home.

Standing with the Alabama flag from left to right are: Dental Technician Third Class Smale M. Edmondson, Jr., of Elba, Construction Electrician Third Class Gary W. Burdeshaw of Phenix City, LCDR Gene Davis of Thomasville, and Construction Electrician Third Class Virgil I. Cobb, Jr., of Birmingham. Petty Officer Samuel M. Edmondson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Edmondson Sr., of Elba.

The men are serving an eight-month tour of duty at Camp Haskins South, Da Nang, Vietnam.

CATTLE SHOW PLANNED

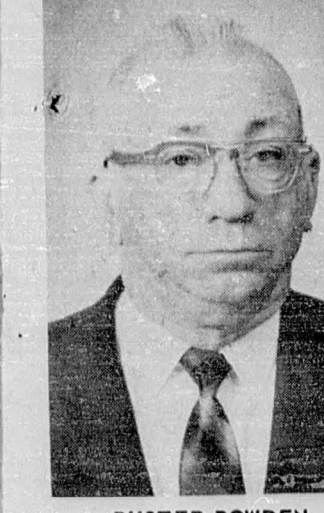

The Coffee County Cattlemen's Association has scheduled its annual Jr. Cattlemen's Calf Show and Spring Sale for Wednesday, April 1st, according to club president, Harold Hudson.

The event will be staged at the Farmers Livestock Barn in Elba. This event draws a high grade of cattle each year and many families choose this time to buy beef to stock their freezer.

The sale is open to everyone, not just members of the Cattlemen's Association, to both buy and/or sell cattle.

THE FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart! On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem... and men hailed Him as their King. On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary... and they nailed Him to a Cross. How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God! The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion! Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days... resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

Governor Brings "Full Time" Tour To Elba

Since kicking off an aggressive campaign for Governor, Brewer has told Alabama voters he is "running on my record." In speeches throughout the state, the 41-year-old Governor has asked the Alabama electorate to look at his solid record of accomplishment in office, "I want to continue this record of progress in Alabama."

Brewer says, "I'm willing to be a full-time hard-working Governor for our people to get the job done."

to hold that post. In 1966, he was elected overwhelmingly as Alabama's Lieutenant Governor.

Brewer married his college sweetheart, Martha Farmer, in 1950. The Brewers have two daughters: Becki, an Auburn student; and Allison, a junior high schooler in Montgomery.

Brewer, a Decatur native, was a 14-year veteran of the State Legislature before assuming the state's highest office in 1968, since becoming Governor, he has compiled an impressive record in such areas as education, new jobs and payrolls, aid to Alabama's elderly, improved medical care, and better roads and highways.

His economy measures in state government have saved Alabama taxpayers millions of dollars.

Brewer has also waged a vigorous campaign against pornographic books and movies, and has taken an active role in combating drug abuse among Alabama young people.

Brewer is not stranger to hard work. He worked his way through the University of Alabama waiting on tables at a drugstore and digging ditches for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He later returned to his hometown to set up a law practice, and established a brilliant record as a state legislator after being elected to the House of Representatives from Morgan County.

Brewer was named Speaker of the House in 1963, becoming the youngest man in the state's history.

per. He ends Saturday in Dothan following four speaking engagements beginning at Tallahassee at 9:00 a.m.; from there to Opelika, Lanett and Phenix City before the Dothan rally Saturday night.

During next week, he will cover another 22 counties, making a total of 46 he will have covered in less than two full weeks of campaigning.

At the same time Brewer continues to do his job as Governor. He has reserved each Wednesday for appointments in his State Capitol office and also spends an hour or so a day in the office before taking to the campaign trail on other days.

"I'm not going to stop being Governor just because I'm a candidate," he said. "The business of running state government must go on."

Brewer's first week tour is taking him mainly through South Alabama, with the exception of a Friday tour beginning in Florence and ending in Jasper.

E ANT BAIT
 We have a good supply of Mirex ant bait. A lot of folks have been using it in the past few days for the shipment of hogs. This bait can be used at the rate of 3-5 lbs. per acre of field, pastures, lawns or areas. It is safe to use and all kinds of animals can eat it. VEGETABLE GARDENING IS 'IN'

Vegetable gardening has become fashionable because of the obvious advantages it offers full-flavored produce at low prices with family fun and healthy occupation as bonuses.

Vegetable gardening's back in style for the first time since World War II. Retail sales of vegetable seeds have risen and the gardener who boasts of having the first ripe tomato on the block is with us once more. Why the boom in growing vegetables? Many reasons. First, the human need to return to the soil. Second, more leisure time gives people a chance to do what they want. And one of their high priorities is to garden. Third, home grown vegetables taste as no store-bought ones ever do. They're delicious! The classic example of what happens to a vegetable in handling is sweet corn's great loss of sugar from the moment of picking. On the home garden, the gardener can pick the corn and eat it the same day. Fourth, there's no generation gap in a garden. The sixth reason is that a vegetable garden small enough so you can handle it is a reasonable time each week, planted with only the crops your family enjoys eating, can save you money.

Injured Dogwoods Are Prey

If the dogwood trees in your yard are injured and scarred chances are good the dogwood borer has taken up housekeeping there. Extension Survey Entomologist Frank McQueen says, "Larvae of the dogwood borer bore into the bark and feed on the cambium layer underneath, thus cutting off nutrients and moisture. Five to 25 larvae are sometimes found in large trees. The larvae get so plentiful until they completely cut the cambium layer and the tree dies. After the borers get into the bark, flickers also peck holes in the tree looking for the larvae. This pecking leads to additional bark damage and infestation. The adult form, a small clear-winged moth, emerges in April, May and June looking for injured trees on which to lay eggs. Preventing injury to trees by lawn mowers, bicycles, rakes and other mechanical devices is the most effective control effort, McQueen adds.

THE OLD TIMER
 Parents no longer bring children up. They finance them. A recent survey by the Economic Research Service says that the median age of farmers is about the same as that of the other self-employed," says Maddox. He adds that five per cent of the farmers were under 25, and that only 1.6 per cent of all other self-employed were under 25.

Green Thumb Tips

Gardeners whose space for planting is extremely limited or new gardeners who don't know how to grow plants might profitably buy seeds of a cut flower mixture. This will contain a number of easily-grown, free-flowering annuals and will produce a variety of flowers for cutting from early summer until frost.

With all the furore about the long-time effects of DDT and related chemicals, many a gardener wishes he knew of a safe insecticide. Pyrethrum is probably the safest of them all. It is the powdered flowers of a plant by the same name.

There are two different types of shears: an upright and a trailing. Use the upright form for bordering beds and for pot plants. But, if you wish to plant a hanging basket, be sure to use the trailing form.

Some good annuals for semi-shaded places are flowering tobacco, salvia, balsam, lobelia, Alyssum, snapdragon and forget-me-not.

MEXICAN SUNFLOWER
 Brighten your late summer garden with the dahlia-like flowers of Titonia, Torch.

Imagine germinated flowers 4 inches in diameter 26 feet plants with luxuriant foliage! That's what you'll produce from seeds of Titonia, Torch. Titonia is a native of Mexico and Central America, long known in its wild form. It has been called Inca's flower and Inca's gold as well as Mexican sunflower. The improved variety, Torch, has larger flowers of a more brilliant color than the wild form. This plant can be used for a background of green or for a one-year hedge. The flowers open in August and September and are excellent for cutting.

Add to the list of flowers that may be dried for winter bouquets as well as used fresh in summer the African point brush. Bloom colors are golden or scarlet and flower form is like an upside-down paint brush. Black plastic sheeting used as a mulch is particularly effective in growing watermelons and muskmelons. Not only does the plastic smother weeds while it holds warmth and moisture in the soil but it also reduces rotting of fruits. The easy way to train such plants as sweet peas and morning glories is on specially treated string netting. It can be hung wherever you want the vines to climb. Want material for delightful sachets? Grow lavender, a perennial, and use its flowers. Chill the seeds before you plant them for this makes them sprout more surely. For bigger and better Brussels sprouts pinch out the top of the plant when the sprouts at the bottom are full-grown. The smaller, upper sprouts are thus encouraged to grow.

Washington Report

 Third District of Ala.

Americans everywhere must wonder just what the "advice and consent" of the United States Senate really means in the matter of Supreme Court nominations. It's activity during the past seven months has been a real eye-opener. Under the separation of powers doctrine, the President has the power to appoint Justices to the Supreme Court. It was never intended, however, that he should be coerced by the Senate into nominating its own choice. Yet, almost seven months have passed since Judge Clement Haynsworth was nominated for the Court seat vacated by Abe Fortas. The Senate "deliberated" for three entire months on the fitness of Haynsworth, for 12 years chief justice of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, to sit on the Supreme Court. By the end of the debate, which at times took on the appearance of a Roman circus, the South Carolinian's rejection was almost a climactic. Few, if any, of the sitting Justices could meet the criteria demand of Judge Haynsworth. Ironically, he met them and still lost. Judge G. Harrold Carswell, a member of the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and a veteran of 15 years on the Federal bench, has been getting some of the same treatment. He was nominated on January 19, and after almost two months, the Senate is finally getting down to debate on his nomination. A vote could come this week. Judge Carswell suffers the same handicap as Judge Haynsworth: he is a South-of Appeals for the Fifth District. He was warmly endorsed him, and U. S. Senators and college professors notwithstanding, they ought to know best about his character and ability. One of them, Judge Warren Jones, said: "I regard Harrold Carswell as eminently qualified in every way - personality, integrity, legal learning, and judicial temperament - for the United States."

Many of the same Senators who have charged that Judge Carswell has a mediocre and undistinguished record were not inclined to challenge the highly questionable legal training of Francis X. Morrissey, when he was nominated for the High Court by President John F. Kennedy.

Public outrage was so great that his name was withdrawn, but not thanks to the Senate liberals who are so vocal today. Of course, Mr. Morrissey had two things going for him: he was a crony of President Kennedy, and he was a non-Southerner.

It is time to stop the muckraking and start voting. But more important, it is time to bring some balance to the Supreme Court by seating a good conservative. All indications are that Judge G. Harrold Carswell is such a man. Confirmation in a resounding manner is certainly in order.

VOTE FOR & ELECT

STATE

REPRESENTATIVE
COFFEE COUNTY

Kindly permit me to discuss what I feel are some of my qualifications for this very important office. I am 25 years old and was graduated from college with a degree in political science with primary emphasis in governmental administration. I have studied law at Jones Law School. For the past 3 years I have taught school. I wish to extend my services to you by representing you in the State Legislature.

* While I am representative, there will be no new taxes placed on property owners in Coffee County.

* My professional ties will render to the entire educational program of Coffee County a strong and personal voice.

* Our county needs a local trade school to serve the residents of Coffee County. I plan to see that we get one.

* Much has been said with respect to Elba and Enterprise receiving industrial growth and development -- this is good but I should also like to see other areas such as Kinston, New Brockton and rural communities receive their fair share of this development. As I have stated many times, I plan to work for all of Coffee County.

* All of us in Coffee County are proud of the Enterprise Junior College. The potential for development of this already established monument to the needs of education is clearly visible. Let me work to make this a four year college.

* We hear much about our natural resources and about air and water pollution. Our local conservation officials do an admirable job but need more personnel and financial aid. I intend to see that they get this added support.

* Our greatest natural resources are the minds of our children. Let me, a person who knows their problems, serve YOU in the State Legislature.

Attorney General To Help In Liquor Probe

Attorney General Macdonald Gallion said he is sending his Chief Assistant to Colbert County to meet with members of the grand jury and the District Attorney to explore in depth the evidence uncovered in the recent liquor probe there.

The Attorney General received a request for assistance from the Colbert County Grand Jury alleging wide-spread violations of the liquor laws in the county.

Gallion points out that while this is primarily an enforcement responsibility of the ABC Board and local authorities, he has never failed to respond to a request from a grand jury and has never failed to lend every assistance at his command.

Assigned to the probe is Deputy Attorney General John Bookout who will take along either the office's sole investigator or an Assistant Attorney General. Bookout will begin his probe early next week.

Gallion said upon the return of his assistants, the matter will be reviewed by him and his staff and then will be taken to the highest level of state government necessary to get results.

about your SOCIAL SECURITY

Do you need to file an annual report of your earnings with the Social Security Administration? If so, you have until April 15 to make the report, says Harry N. Scott, District Manager of the Dothan office.

All social security beneficiaries born after February 1, 1897, are required to file a report with the Social Security Administration if they earned over $680 last year. These earnings include wages as well as any self-employment income. Scott says the failure to file the report by April 15 may result in loss of benefits.

The local Social Security office will be glad to help you with any questions you may have, or will assist you in completing your annual report. If you go to your Social Security office for help in filing this report, take your 1099-W-2 form, or, if you were self-employed, a copy of your tax return.

The Social Security office for this area is located in the Federal Building, 100 West Troy Street, Dothan. The people in that office will be glad to help you with any matter concerning Social Security.

3,000 Acres Of Catfish Now In Alabama

Catfish farming is rapidly becoming big business in Alabama, and the outlook for the future challenges the best fish story.

Extension Wildlife Specialist Earl F. Kennamer says Alabama had over 3,000 acres devoted to catfish farming that brought farmers more than $2 million in 1969.

Alabama presently ranks 4th among the catfish producing states. But Kennamer estimates that this could be increased if some of the states 150,000 existing pond sites were developed for growing catfish.

"The opportunity is there," Kennamer says, "for any landowner to increase his income by farming catfish. An acre of catfish water will bring a farmer from $180 to $200."
